

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Papersky 'Creative Space' opens in Reindeer Court, Worcester

Papersky, a successful advanced web and creative graphic design company with an international client base covering USA, Switzerland, Germany, Netherland, Monaco, Canada, Australia and the UK has opened the doors to a walk-in Creative Studio in Worcester City centre in Reindeer Court.

Owners Paul Buck and Samantha Mortimer, having worked with renowned brands such as 3M, Salcura Skincare, Les Mills Fitness, Joey L, where they created feature rich easy to manage websites. They decided to expand their creative horizons to collaborate with other creative artists and photographers within a "Creative Space".

Papersky's "Creative Space" has a dedicated purpose built professional photographic studio where they will be creating wonderful photographic memories and stunning personal creations for families, model sessions, events and occasions, as well as providing commercial product and promotional photography for business.

Paul and Sam identified "Creative Space" as a passionate concept that would allow access to creativity for everyone. "Papersky will be representing a range of new and exciting national and international artists, Giuilo Rossi, Jenny Rome, Ruben Ireland and Sofia Bonati among others; we will be displaying and making their new original print artwork readily available to a wider audience."

"We have also been working hard on creating handmade presentation folios and notebooks and providing carefully selected gifts, books and accessories, all tailored to complement the creative business".

"Our Craft experience days, Photographic workshops, and Exhibitions will be available to anyone from beginners upwards with everything being designed to encourage customer participation and for Papersky Creative Space to become the go-to place for Creative Customers, enthusiasts and surrounding businesses".
